COUNTY BASE BALL LEAGUE

Eight Adams County Base Ball Teams Expected to Form League for the Coming Summer. Want Teams of Local Talent.

A movement is on foot to organize an Adams County baseball league of eight teams, representing various towns in the county, which will carry out a schedule during the Summer months and which will contest for a pennant.

A meeting of representatives from the various towns will be called for in Gettysburg in the near future. Already a number of the towns have signified their intention of putting a team into the league and others have not yet been approached regarding the matter.

The plan as laid out provides for the following teams, Gettysburg, Fairfield, Arendtsville, York Springs, New Oxford, Abbottstown, Littlestown and a team representing the two towns of McKnightstown and Cashtown. The promoters of the league hope that the teams can come to an agreement providing that no player will be eligible who does not live within three miles of the town on whose team he wishes to play. It is also planned that no player will be allowed to play on more than one team during the season. These two rules, it is hoped, will pass and will confine the teams to all local players and will therefore create more interest in the various towns.

At the meeting to be called at which these matters will be considered by laws will be presented for adoption or change, officers will be elected, the schedule matter will be brought up and all other things pertaining to a successful season.

For several years an unusual amount of interest has been manifested in the county in base ball, the interest last Summer being especially worthy of note. Good teams have been the rule all over the county and a league should prove a success in every way, both financially and in the matter of good base ball.

The promoters hope to be able to call the meeting sufficiently early to permit of all details being arranged before time to open the season.

FIRE COMPANY HOLDS BANQUET

One Hundred and Fifty Members and Friends of Gettysburg Fire Department Enjoy Annual Banquet.

The annual banquet of the Gettysburg Fire Department was held on Tuesday evening in the banquet hall of the Order of Independent Americans and proved to be the success which these affairs usually are, due largely to the efforts of the committee, Clifford Wierman, E. P. Wisotzky, Maurice A. Miller, John Menchey and William B. Flemming.

About a hundred and fifty people sat down to the feast after marching from the engine house to the hall. There were present in addition to the fire laddies and their friends members of the town council and the honorary members of the fire company.

An elaborate banquet was served by the committee and thoroughly enjoyed by all who were present. The firemen were very careful of the comfort of their guests and all were served promptly and bounteously. The feast was prepared by the firemen who demonstrated their ability to put flames to good use as well as to get rid of them when they menace property.

There were speeches by Wm. Arch McClean, Jacob Kitzmiller, Wm. H. Tipton and E. P. Miller and the evening was spent pleasantly in conversation and general mingling between the members of the company and their guests.

NO MORE MONEY IN THE BOXES

Order from Post Office Department will Stop the Placing of Pennies in Rural Mail Boxes. Mail not to be Lifted.

Uncle Sam has taken in hand the matter of patrons putting pennies into letter boxes and according to an order issued this week the carriers will be forbidden to remove any money from the boxes after February 15. After that date all postage stamps will have to be on the mail matter before the carriers will be allowed to collect it. As a result of this order it will be necessary for those living on the routes to keep on hand a supply of stamps for use as needed.

Estimates made by officials of the Postoffice Department indicate that approximately 300,000,000 1 cent pieces annually are taken by the rural letter carriers from letter boxes for the payment of postage on mail matter deposited.

Complaints against the practice had become so widespread that on Monday the Postoffice Department issued instructions to all postmasters at rural delivery offices that after February 15 the practice will be discontinued. The department, it is explained, has been forced to adopt this measure on account of the delays in the collection and delivery of mail.

PUT OUT FIRE WITH SODA TANK

Drug Store of David Buehler Saved from Destruction by Quick Work of Clerk who Turned Soda on Rapidly Spreading Flames.

The drug store of David A. Buehler, of Harrisburg, well known here, was saved from destruction by fire Monday evening by a clerk who held in check the rapidly spreading flames by uncoupling the pipes of a charged soda fountain and turning the soda on the blaze. The clerk was G. A. Saulhaber.

He was alone in the store in the evening about 5 o'clock when he detected smoke. He rushed to the cellar, where a lively blaze had enveloped a box of excelsior and medicine and was rapidly spreading to other combustibles.

How the fire started is not known; presumably caught from the furnace, which stands near where the blazing box was found.

Saulhaber acted immediately when he saw the flames. The pipes connecting the soda fountain above with the tanks in the cellar were within reach and it took but a short time to un couple them. There he turned a strong stream of soda on the blaze. The effect was instantly discernible.

A passerby discovering the smoke rushed into the store and telephoned to the Hope chemical. When the company arrived the blaze was under the control of the fighting clerk with the spraying soda nozzle, and all that was necessary was to switch a more powerful chemical stream on for a few minutes and then stamp out the sparks in the debris. The total damage will not run over $200.

David Bluebaugh, of Cannonsburg was here to attend the funeral of his father, George Bluebaugh, last Tuesday.

Layton Beamer, who had lived in this vicinity, but has spent the last twenty years at Clyde, Ohio, is visiting relatives in this community.

Owing to the heavy rain that melted the snow last Friday the Conewago creek was unusually high and the heavy ice passed off and did considerable damage. It tore out about the half of David G. Minter's mill dam and took several foot logs. Opposite Mrs. William Funt's house the ice jammed and formed a dam and threw the water around her house nearly two feet deep. One of her boys that was at school had to be brought home to the house on horseback by her neighbor, Mr. Moose.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Minter, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Lupp, Mrs. Elias Hoffman and Miss Mary Minter, of near Brysonia, have gone to Florida to spend a few weeks.

THINK IT WAS EARTHQUAKE

Speculation is rife in Westminster concerning the mysterious force by which that city and the country along the Western Maryland Railroad from Falls Station to Thurmont were shaken shortly after 9 o'clock Sunday night, but no solution or explanation of the phenomenon has been found. That the force was not confined to narrow limits seems certain, as its heavy detonation was heard at Thurmont, at the foot of the Blue Ridge Mountains, 20 miles west of Westminster.

GOOD SHOW

Gettysburg people were delighted with "In the Bishop's Carriage" produced at the Walter Theatre on Tuesday night. The cast was good, several of the leading characters being especially worthy of mention. The play proved of absorbing interest while there was sufficient comedy to satisfy the audience present. The attraction drew a fair sized house.

UNUSUAL SIGHT

Scores of Gettysburg people witnessed an unusual sight in the heavens on Tuesday evening when they beheld the newly discovered comet, Venus and the full moon. The comet was more plainly visible than at any previous time, Venus never shown brighter and the full moon completed a most beautiful sight.

FRUIT GROWERS WATCH SURFACE

Ugly Charges Made against Man Directing State Fruit Growing Watched by Adams County Orchardists.

Adams County fruit growers are watching with great interest the charges preferred against Dr. H. A. Surface, head of the Division of Economic Zoology, Department of Agriculture, by Former Assistant A. F. Satterthwait. Among the things charged are the following:

That the said H. A. Surface removed from the Capitol building early in 1908 an incubator, property of the Commonwealth, and used it on his farm near Mechanicsburg, Pennsylvania, for private purposes. That the said Surface purchased or caused to be purchased at State expense, a gasoline engine, representing that its use was for experimental purposes. The engine was neglected for a time and was afterward used to pump water to a tank for private use on the property of the said Surface.

That the said Surface purchased or caused to be purchased at State expense a field potato spraying machine and used it for his own personal work; That he purchased fertilizers for use on his farm and at State expense;

That Surface is unfair to the orchard inspectors in engaging them in such a manner that they or some of them work in the expectation of continued employment up to the time they receive notice to suspend work for a protracted length of time, himself knowing in advance that he would definitely suspend them;

That Surface practices irregularity in the use of State money, favorable to himself, causing to be paid to himself through some employee a rate of horse hire two and one-half times as great as he allows to his orchard inspectors, while his horse is actually rendering service to himself and the horses used by the orchard inspectors are actually rendering service to the State;

That Surface has presumed to carry trunks of newly engaged employees of the Division to his private residence without their desiring it and has caused them to charge their transportation expenses to the State, in order to induce them to remain at his residence, paying him room-rent;

That Surface changes his instructions to the Division employees in a manner that interferes rather than promotes the work of the Division.

That Surface refused to advance the salary of one of his Division employees unless that employee would render service on his (Surface's) farm, under which condition he would raise his salary from ninety to one hundred and twenty dollars per month;

That Surface has so injected personal error into all experiments or so-called experiments conducted on his farm at Mechanicsburg, the men entrusted with the same have been unable to get reliable or significant results, either positive or negative, with one or two exceptions.

Dr. Surface will not discuss the charges preferred against him at all, but said: "I ask my friends to withhold judgment in this matter until the whole business has been sifted. I am ready to meet these or any other charges which any one can bring."

The merger is being engineered by New York promoters, and when completed will entail an outlay of millions of dollars.

INVOLVE 103 MEN IN PITTSBURG BRIBERY

District Attorney Supplied With List of Names.

Pittsburg, Jan. 26.—District Attorney Blakeley's list of councilman bribes and bribe takers has reached a total of 103 names. The list reached Mr. Blakeley in a manner which shows that some outside agency is actively engaged in looking up evidence in the graft cases.

As the district attorney was in criminal court he was approached by Assistant District Attorney Richard Martin, who handed his superior an envelope.

"In that envelope, Mr. Blakeley," said Martin, "are the names of 103 men implicated in the councilman graft cases. The list was given to me by the attorney for one of the local civic bodies, who asked me to inform you that he has the evidence to convict many men, and that he will gladly turn this evidence over to you and will thoroughly substantiate it to your satisfaction."

Mr. Blakeley took the list and said he would investigate.

Although Mr. Martin refused to divulge the name of the attorney submitting this alleged evidence, it is believed to be A. Leo Weil, of the Voters' League, which caused the original arrests in this crusade.

As an example of the consternation reigning in the camp of the men under suspicion, it was declared that one of the bankers, who is in almost immediate danger of arrest, has threatened suicide, and also fearful of his friends that he will carry out his threat, that he is accompanied by a bodyguard night and day.

The land is valued at $1.10 an acre, and the whisky is also valued at the same sum.

All suffered from the cold and exposure and Mrs. Snyder is said to be in a critical condition.

BOYCOTT MAKES MEAT PRICES DROP

Slump Follows One Day's Abstinence in Pittsburg.

125,000 WORKERS IN MOVE

There Has Been No Apparent Change in Retail Prices, But Big Decline Is Expected Before Another Week.

Pittsburg, Jan. 26.—The effect of the first day's boycott on high priced foods in this city was immediate. Wholesale prices, which were slowly coming down, took a slump. More than 125,000 workmen began their thirty days' abstinence from meat.

Hogs, heavies, which on Saturday sold at $8.85 and on Monday at $8.70, dropped to $8.65. Hogs, mediums, which had been selling at $8.80 and $8.70, dropped to $8.60. Pigs, which on Saturday were $8.75 and on Monday $8.50, were quoted at $8.30. Tuesday, $8.50. Choice cattle, which brought $6.75 on Saturday, sold for $6.25 Tuesday. Fair cattle slumped from $4.65 to $4.25. Good cattle was the one exception. It advanced 20 cents over Monday's price, being quoted Tuesday at $5.90, as against $5.70. Saturday's quotation on good cattle, however, was $6.40.

The boycott has had no apparent effect on the retail markets. Butchers quoted round steak at 15 cents the pound; sirloin, 18 and 20 cents; shoulder steak, 15 cents; lamb chops, 15 to 20 cents; pork chops, 15 to 20 cents; the 15 cent rate prevailing where a whole loin is bought; sliced ham, 25 cents; whole hams, 17 and 18 cents, according to quality, while the other grades of meats were selling in proportion.

The dealers declared that there has been no advance in prices for weeks. Trade has decreased to some extent because of the boycott. One dealer in pork said butchers are buying to supply only immediate needs, believing that there will be a big decline in the price before another week.

Butter and eggs will in a few days be under the boycott the same as is meat at present. Fearing this, butchers dealers began to scale their prices, and in some instances the price was 6 cents lower for the best Elgin creamery. Eggs, too, while they are the cold storage brands, are beginning to come down in price, and as much as 2 and 3 cents a dozen was lopped off.

"Eat meat only once a day and you will help to solve the problem of the cost of living and also improve your health," is the advice of Dr. E. B. Walters, director of the department of health.

Dr. Walters and Dr. J. C. McNeil, superintendent of the bureau of food inspection, are convinced that the operation of a municipal abattoir would reduce materially the cost of meat to the consumer and would provide meat known to have been properly inspected.

Developments indicate that the boycott is a genuine revolt. Butcher stalls and markets in the residential sections are well nigh deserted. There was a rush in the fish markets. Fish prices are lower than they have been here in some months, and the consumption of oysters and fish will be startling, according to one of the dealers.

GOETHAM FOOD PRICES DROP

Milk, Eggs and Butter Much Cheaper in New York.

New York, Jan. 26.—Milk, eggs and butter led the procession of receding prices in food products. Nation-wide agitation, aided by potent local influences, have brought about the drop. Meat, too, is on the decline following a greatly reduced consumption.

State anti-monopoly laws are to be invoked in the movement to combat the trusts guilty of advancing food prices. A special grand jury, whose particular office it will be to consider the effect of combinations among dealers in foodstuffs, was sworn in. While it is expected first to deal with the alleged milk combine, the meat question is likely to be put to it strongly, and possibly the whole scope of the food situation will be taken in during the probing.

Milk is down a cent a quart already on the routes of at least two big dealers, butter in the best qualities has been cut 5 cents a pound, and eggs are off 5 cents a dozen in local markets. Storage eggs that have been selling as "strictly fresh" at high prices are no longer put out as such, the big wholesalers say.

WANT EXPORT TAX ON MEAT

Father of Boycott Circulating Petitions to Be Sent to Congress.

Cleveland, O., Jan. 26.—Fred W. Sebelin, originator of the meat boycott, and Mayor Baehr discussed the anti-meat agitation and suggested that Senator Burton be asked to head a movement to have congress impose an export tax upon meat. This plan is supplementary to the petitions now being circulated. The petitions will be presented to congress. While the wholesale price has been going down steadily, there has been no lowering of the retail price. Eggs fell off six cents in the local retail market. The signing of abstinence pledges still continues.

RECOVER STOLEN JEWELS

Diamonds Worth $10,000 Found on Alleged Forger.

New York, Jan. 26.—Frank A. Giese, registered from Baltimore, was arrested by detectives while buying an expensive fur coat in a Broadway store. Giese whipped out a ten-cartridge revolver, but was disarmed.

He was charged with passing bogus checks aggregating $3200 on the National Bank of the Republic, of Chicago, and hotels in this city. On him, however, was found a chamolais bag containing almost $10,000 worth of diamonds and jewelry that were taken from a Mrs. Sommers, of 223 West Fifty-seventh street. She saw the jewels at police headquarters, identified them and said a fine breastpin was missing. This Giese pawned in an Eighth avenue pawnshop, but the detectives have recovered it.

Giese made a complete confession, say the police.

Detectives followed Giese to Mrs. Sommers' apartment. When he had left they asked Mrs. Sommers what she knew about him. She suddenly arose, walked to a dressing table, as if in search of something, and then screamed.

Mrs. Sommers said she met Giese at a New Year's party at a fashionable restaurant. Then she told of removing her diamonds at Giese's request, placing them in a chamolais bag, which Giese managed to secure in some unknown manner.

DIVE IN ICY WATER TO SAVE A TOWN

Heroes Open Safety Valve in Austin Dam.

Austin, Pa., Jan. 26.—Through the herculean efforts of a little band of heroes Austin was saved from being wiped from the map by a threatened catastrophe similar to that which devastated Johnston years ago.

Just above the city is an immense concrete dam, keeping back a volume of water nearly a mile long, 600 feet wide and 50 feet deep.

Little Frankie Robbins, in coming from school, takes the concrete retaining wall as a cross-cut to his home. As he crossed it Monday he thought he felt vibrations, and upon reaching home told his mother that the dam shook.

Investigation proved the boy's story to be correct. The thaw had caused the water sheds to throw volumes of water into the dam, and the safety valve, way below the surface, had become clogged. The concrete wall was trembling.

Like wildfire the news that the dam was about to give way spread through the city. Fathers and mothers hastened to gather together their families and sought places of safety on the surrounding hills. Monday night 2000 persons camped on the hills overlooking the dam, expecting every minute to see their homes and property swept away.

In the meantime a little gang of heroes was working to reach the safety valve regulating the outflow, and that was submerged in thirty feet of water. There were no diving suits near, but two volunteers divested themselves of their clothing and dove into that icy water. After the third attempt one of them succeeded in reaching the valve and extricating a large log with which it had been clogged.

Just after the valve had been opened the authorities decided the pressure still was too great and blasted one end of the breast of the dam. At daybreak the water had receded and Austin was out of danger.

CREATES BUREAU OF MINES

Bill Providing For Appointment of Commissioner Passes House.

Washington, Jan. 26.—After a stormy session, during which every effort was made by Representative Tawney, chairman of the committee on appropriations, and other economists to defeat the measure, the bill creating a bureau of mines in the interior department was passed by the house.

The bill provides for the appointment of a commissioner of mines at a salary of $5000 a year. It transfers from the geological survey to the bureau the supervision of the investigations of structural materials and the analyzing and testing of coals, lignites and other mineral fuel substances. It is made the province of the commissioner of mines, under the direction of the secretary of the interior, to "foster, promote and develop the mining industries of the United States; to make diligent investigations of the methods of mining for the safety of miners, the possible improvement of conditions under which mining operations are carried on; the treatment of ores and other mineral substances; the use of explosives and electricity; the prevention of accidents," etc.

Dies of Fright in Wife's Arms.

Altoona, Pa., Jan. 26.—While driving to his farm in Homers Gap, Rev. Dr. Hostler, aged sixty years, fell over in his wife's arms, dead from fright. The cutter in which he and his wife were riding started to slide, and Hostler, fearing it would go over a high embankment, became highly agitated. As soon as the runners dropped into a rut and stopped the movement toward the precipice he collapsed.

ECZEMA ON HANDS FOR TEN YEARS

Were Raw All Over and the Humor was Spreading to Body and Limbs — Professional Treatment did No Good — Daughter had Eczema, Too.

CUTICURA A SUCCESS IN BOTH THESE CASES

"I had eczema on my hands for ten years. At first it would break out only in winter. Then it finally came to stay. I had three good doctors to do all they could but none of them did any good. I then used one box of Cuticura Ointment and three bottles of Cuticura Resolvent, and was completely cured. My hands were raw all over, inside and out, and the eczema was spreading all over my body and limbs. Before I had used one bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, together with the Cuticura Ointment, my sores were nearly healed over, and by the time I had used the third bottle, I was entirely well. I had a good appetite and was fleshier than I ever was. To any one who has any skin or blood disease I would honestly advise them to fool with nothing else but to get Cuticura and get well. My hands, cured by the use of Cuticura, have never given me the least bit of trouble up to now. I cannot recommend Cuticura highly enough, it has done me and my family so much good. My daughter's hands this summer became perfectly raw with eczema. She could get nothing to do them any good until she tried Cuticura. She used two boxes of Cuticura Resolvent and one box of Cuticura Ointment and in two weeks they were entirely cured. I have used Cuticura for other members of my family and it always proved successful. I recommend it to all who suffer with eczema. After once using it you will never use anything else. Mrs. M. E. Falin, Speers Ferry, Va., Oct. 19, 1909."

John Sundberg of Iowa, whose record of producing 155 bushels of corn per acre the past season was mentioned in these notes, will have to take a back seat for Mr. Batts of Wake county, N. C., who the past year raised 226 2/3 bushels on an acre of ground, as certified to by the state commissioner of agriculture and the chairman of the Raleigh board of trade. This corn would not rank high as viewed by corn show standards, but it delivered the goods—the shelled corn. The variety was Cocks's Prolific, which on the acre in question averaged four ears to the stalk, some stalks carrying as many as eight ears. The blue ribbon for the highest yield in 1908 was carried off by a grower in the same county, with 181 bushels.

TAFT NOT A TRUST BUSTER

He Will Not Attack All the Corporations.

ISSUES A STATEMENT

Declares Sensational Rumors Have No Foundation and That His Purpose is Clearly Set Forth in His Special Message.

Washington, Jan. 26. — President Taft denied the reports that he is planning a crusade against the unlawful combinations of capital. He gave out the following statement:

"No statement was issued, either from the attorney general's office or the White House, indicating that the purpose of the administration with reference to prosecutions under the anti-trust law is other than as set forth in the message of the president of Jan. 7, 1910.

"Sensational statements as if there were to be a new departure and an indiscriminate prosecution of important industries have no foundation. The purpose of the administration is exactly as already stated in the president's message."

As Antidote to Reports. This statement was issued after the president had talked with James J. Hill and had received information that prices were crumbling in New York under the various reports printed.

Mr. Hill, on leaving the White House, said he did not pretend to represent or speak for the president in anything he said, but he was sure the president would not attack corporations of themselves, but the sins of the corporations.

If corporations are violating the laws of the country he supposed they would be brought to book. The president's purposes have undergone no change.

What has happened is that Wall Street takes more seriously than it did the language of that part of his message referred to in his statement, and that a portion of the street, as is supposed, is using it for strategic objects.

The President's Position. The president, as he states in the message, has both the "duty" and the "purpose" to inquire into the organization and operations of all corporations suspected of violating the anti-trust law; and if there is ground for it, prosecutions will follow.

As an alternative to the business disorder he anticipates from this course he recommends the way out—a national incorporation law. But congress has not intended to take action on it at this session.

Only one thing halts the full development of Mr. Taft's purpose to look over all the suspected trusts. The line of action has not been finally laid down for him.

It will come from the supreme court in the decision on the epochal Standard Oil and tobacco trust cases, due now at any time.

SHOT AT DOG; KILLS WOMAN

Farmer Fires at Fleeing Animal and Hits Neighbor's Wife.

Sount Bend, Ind., Jan. 26.—While attempting to kill a dog, Edward Hosteler, a farmer, residing six miles north of South Bend, shot and instantly killed Mrs. Melford Price, a neighbor. The bullet struck the woman in the temple and she fell dead at her husband's feet.

Hosteler, who is alleged to have a mania for killing dogs, was chasing a mongrel from his place and upon his reaching the highway, fired a shot at the fleeing dog. The aim was bad, and the bullet intended for the canine struck Mrs. Price, who was walking toward Hosteler.

The coroner is investigating. So far Hosteler has not been arrested.

Is $600,000 Richer. Cincinnati, O., Jan. 26.—By the announcement of the discovery of a misplaced will, Miss Mary Hanna learned that she is at least $600,000 richer.

Miss Hanna's mother, Mrs. Mary J. Hanna, widow of Henry Hanna, who was one of the leading capitalists of Cincinnati, died about two months ago. A search had been made for a will, but none was found. Former Judge Worthington appeared in probate court Tuesday and filed Mrs. Hanna's will, which names her only survivor, Miss Mary, sole beneficiary of the estate, and specifies that she be made executrix. It is supposed the will, which is dated April 18, 1895, was misplaced.

Thaw Alienist Under Arrest. Pittsburg, Jan. 26.—Dr. C. C. Wiley, famous as an alienist, appearing in behalf of Harry K. Thaw, has been arrested, charged with the larceny of jewels said to be valued at about $1400 from a former woman patient. According to the story told by the woman, Miss Dora Pedder, the alleged larceny took place about two years ago. She knew Dr. Wiley had taken the jewels, but, despite her constant demands, he has refused to return them to her, she says.

An Insulting Style. "Oh did not mind the threats as him as much as the insultin' style as his remarks," said one Irishman to another.

Epilepsy, Fits

"My son was cured of a very bad case of epilepsy with Dr. Miles' Nerve." MRS. D. BAKER, Cleveland, O. "My little daughter who was afflicted with St. Vitus' Dance is now entirely well after taking Dr. Miles' Nerve only four months."

MRS. C. G. BENNETT, Alma, Mich.

Epilepsy, Fits, St. Vitus' Dance and Spasms, are all nervous diseases. They have been cured in so many instances with Dr. Miles' Nerve that it is reasonable to conclude that it is almost sure to cure you. With nervous diseases of a severe type, persistent use has almost invariably resulted in a complete cure or lasting benefits, worth many times the cost of the remedy. The best evidence you can get of its merits is to write to those who have used it. Get a bottle from your druggist. Take it all according to directions, and if it does not benefit he will return your money.

PARIS FLOOD SPREADS RUIN

50,000 Soldiers Are Fighting Rising Waters.

STREETS ARE CAVING IN

Industrial Life of French Capital is Rapidly Becoming Paralyzed—Street Cars Tied Up and Factories Shutting Down.

Paris, Jan. 26.—Fifty thousand soldiers, comprising the garrison of Paris, were placed at the disposal of the municipal authorities to help fight the flood, which is spreading ruin and consternation throughout the city.

The water at the Pont Royal has touched twenty-six feet above low tide and is still rising at the rate of almost half an inch an hour.

The damage already done is incalculable. The industrial life of the city is rapidly becoming paralyzed. Only two sections of the subway are in operation, while three-fourths of the surface lines are tied up. Factories are shutting down because of lack of power due to the electric plants having been flooded. Half of the telephones in the city are out of commission, and telegraph and railroad communication is almost shut down.

Streets Cave In.

The disaster locally is due chiefly to the fact that the whole marvelous underground architecture of the city, which is honeycombed with labyrinthine, is filling up with water, causing the sewers to burst and the streets to cave in and threatening the foundations of buildings.

The scene on the river front is majestic but appalling. The Seine has broken its barriers at several points and is pouring its yellow torrents into the surrounding streets, converting them into veritable lakes. At any moment it may be necessary to blow up the Alma bridge, where the water is but a few inches from the keystone of the arch, as a dam there might turn the course of the Seine in such a way as to flood several of the most fashionable portions of the city.

During the night the subway stations at the Orleans terminus and at Quai d'Orsay were flooded and closed, and the sinking of the Rue de Poitiers let the water through a foot and a half deep into the Rue de Lille and the Rue de l'Université, streets in which live many of the old aristocracy. The Vaugirard district near the Boulevard hospital also is inundated.

The weather grows worse rather than better, and at noon Paris was the center of an era of low pressure and bitter cold. Rain and sleet were falling throughout the flooded regions, adding to the suffering of the poor and homeless. The price of bread and other foods increases owing to the fact that communication with the provinces is crippled.

Drinking Water Being Depleted.

The depleted supply of drinking water has caused the greatest alarm. With the rise of the flood but a few inches higher the pumping stations still in operation must stop, and Paris, in the midst of a miniature ocean, will be without water fit to drink.

The situation at between twenty and thirty suburban towns above this city is worse than in the capital itself. At Charenton, where the swollen river Marne enters the Seine, an area of 200 square miles has been flooded. The submerged district includes Alfortville and Ivry-sur-Seine, with a total population of 50,000. At this point the soldiers are firemen are doing heroic work in rescuing families in boats and pontoons. At Alfortville the cemetery has been washed out and caskets lifted from their resting places are floating down stream.

The animals of the Zoological Garden, which were in danger of drowning, have been removed to higher ground.

Physicians fear an epidemic when the floods subside, as the overflowing sewers are likely to contaminate the drinking supply of water, and the rats driven out of their underground homes are invading residences.

New York, Jan. 26.—Bathed in sulphuric acid inside and outside, Roman Tahrsky is dying in a hospital. INTENDS TO DIE POOR

Dr. D. K. Pearsons Will Give Away His Last Cent.

Chicago, Jan. 26.—After having given more than $4,000,000 to various struggling colleges in many parts of the country, Dr. D. K. Pearsons, a retired capitalist, now nearly ninety years old, has reiterated his intention of giving away every cent he possesses before he dies.

"I am having more fun than any other millionaire alive," he says. "Let other rich men go in for automobiles and steam yachts. I have discovered, after endowing forty-seven colleges in twenty-four states, that giving is the most exquisite of all mundane delights. On my nineteenth birthday on April 14 I am going to have a squaring up with all the small colleges I have promised money to, and I serve notice now that beginning then I am going on a new rampage of giving."

"I intend to die penniless. If there are any other millionaires who want to have a lot of fun let them follow my example. I am going to live ten years longer, and during that time I expect to do nothing but give away money."

EIGHT LIV D IN HENHOUSE

Poverty Stricken Family Found With New Born Babe.

Doylestown, Pa., Jan. 26.—A tale of poverty and suffering was brought to the notice of Judge Stout in court. It appears that for several months Mr. and Mrs. Louie Tope and six children have been living in a hen house in Lower Wakefield township, where their baby was born a few days ago.

They came from Trenton, and being unable to pay for a home, were told, half in jest, they might have the hen house. To the surprise of the owner, the offer was accepted and the eight persons moved into the cramped henhouse.

Mrs. Tope is said to be an industrious woman, but is unable to provide for the family. The husband, according to charges, is a drunkard. The S. P. C. found the family, with the children only half clothed, poorly fed and nearly frozen. After consultation the court directed that an investigation be made to see why the Trenton authorities should not care for the family.

THE TALE OF THOUSANDS

The Scientist and His Great Discovery.

Many things have been advertised in the local papers for human ailments, but nothing has created the talk and enthusiastic praise in this city and vicinity like Root Juice. Most of those who take the remedy a short while can not say too many good things for the scientist and this wonderful health-promoting discovery.

While here the scientist said: "The medicine does not cure disease; it simply removes the cause and gives nature a chance. That is why so many people get well after taking the Juice a while." Many local people permitted their names to be published in this paper because the remedy cured them and they continue to report at the drug store some great good the Juice is doing. It is certainly a great medicine for the stomach, liver and kidneys, indigestion, constipation, rheumatism, backache, sick headache, nervousness, and other symptoms of a disordered condition of the digestive and secretory organs are soon removed under the Juice treatment. They are pleased to tell about it at the People's drug store. Root Juice is $1 a bottle. Three bottles for $2.50.

Points For Mothers

According to new theories concerning parental government, parents are supposed to respect the opinions of their children, at least to treat the budding ideas with due consideration. As an example of the justice of this decision one has only to recall to mind how the opinions of two generations differ, often because of changing customs and conditions. The elders fail to realize that the younger must be heard tolerantly, and so the parents, instead of extending the courtesy of listening politely to the younger folk, deliver their ultimatum as though there were no appeal and then are astonished because confidence and understanding grow less between them and their children. Those parents who as their sons and daughters develop can encourage an expression of opinion so they know the lines upon which young minds are working and with gentle argument and reason can control and mold it exercise an influence as strong as that held during childhood. But it is only by toleration and gentleness that this can be accomplished, for growing boys and girls are too old and experienced for an assertion of direct authority to influence.

Mothers are not infrequently grieved that their daughters are the girls grow older keep them from their thoughts and ambitions, giving confidence to others. In most cases this is the mother's own responsibility, because she tries to exert authority or pressure when others give only sympathy.

To sympathize is not to agree; it is to understand the other side. Mothers should bear this in mind and meet their daughters on a common mental basis even when trying to make the younger see that her attitude is mistaken.

Confidence between mother and daughter is to be maintained at all costs on the part of the former, and a test of her success as a parent is the ability to strike the right note of sympathy with such gentleness and understanding as to influence the girl to a right way of thinking even when the latter is inclined to differ.

It is not by failure to agree that sons and daughters are alienated, but by a total lack of toleration from the elders.

When the Nose Bleeds.

Nosebleed is common among children, and while it seldom reaches an alarming state, nevertheless children are often greatly frightened by it. In treating this complaint try applying a cold cloth at the base of the brain. Stand back of the child and press your hands firmly on the large arteries that run along the edges of the cheek bones. Do not stop the nostrils with cloth or cotton, but allow the blood to flow until naturally checked. Often adults are afflicted with excessive nosebleeding. This is often caused by a severe cold in the head or by exposure to the sun. Worry or excitement, and in many diseases, such as fever, the blood flows from the nostrils. The trouble is probably due to cold and congestion, and sometimes it is not best to check the flow at once. Drowsy headaches are often relieved by nosebleed. But be careful with children and do not show you are alarmed. By being calm yourself you can quiet the fears of the little one who screams at the sight of blood.

GOOD LIME FOR LAND.

Replying to a query relative to the application of the limestone by-product of beet sugar factories to soil or acid soils, the Illinois experiment station states that such product will be as valuable for this purpose as finely ground limestone, provided too much lime used does not contain too much magnesium, which element should not exceed 5 or 6 per cent. Where it does not contain magnesium in excess it has some advantages over natural ground limestone in that it contains much of the phosphorus of the sugar beet, together with considerable quantities of organic nitrogen from the protein and albumenoid compounds of the beets.

TAKING CARE OF DAIRY COWS

Caring for the dairy cows during the winter months requires the strict attention of the dairyman for the best results. A practical dairyman who has made a study of this subject gives his views as follows:

This season of the year is the crucial test of good dairymanship. Any one observing the markets for dairy products at this time knows well enough that prices advance by reason of shrinkage. With most farmers it is a very easy matter to get a big flow of milk when the weather is warm and pleasant and when nature's food, grass, is abundant. But when this supply is exhausted and the cold weather comes upon us, when the skill and energy of man are required, then comes the real test of a good dairyman. When cows are running up on good feed or fed plenty of green material, no matter what care they are given, when first stabled they will shrink in their flow of milk.

On the other hand, any permanent shrinkage will not remain unless it be with cows that are nearing the freshening period if they are fed their full winter ration.

Many farmers make the mistake of leaving their cows out too late before stabling them and not feeding enough coarse fodder. At just what time cows should first be stabled is an opinion from which all differ. Many find it a good practice to begin stabling them nights as the nights become cold. Cows lying on the cold earth will produce not only less milk, but be troubled with bag troubles. Especially is this true of fresh cows whose milking machinery is working hard and very susceptible to untoward influences.

One must not think that barn care will alone maintain milk flow; neither will increased feed accomplish the result at this particular season of the year. Any cow whose milk machinery is dwarfed will not respond any more than extra feed will itself make a horse trot fast that has remained idle for a period. How often we fail to appreciate that the course of feed nutrients is somewhat a matter of education! To be sure, a beef cow cannot be trained to large milk production, but a cow of average dairy conformation, if taken when fresh and fed upon stimulating, milk producing foods, with her individual peculiarities considered, will make a much larger production at this season. The question is often raised that extra feed does not pay until the crucial test comes.

If preliminary care and feeding have been right and the cows are strong, healthy milk producers, there need be but little trouble in maintaining a profitable flow. An essential which must not be omitted is a warm, clean, well lighted and ventilated stable. This must not be neglected. There is certainly a lack of appreciation on this point. No matter what the feed may be, a comfortable stable must be the thing. Another important matter is water. It should be kept before the cows all the time in buckets or any other watering device, suited to the taste of the owner. When turned out for water the cow will not drink uniformly, saying nothing about the chill given by both water and air. Today she does not drink enough; tomorrow she overdrinks. One extreme is as bad as the other. Maximum flow will be secured only through stable watering.

The feeds, home grown hay, silage, straw, etc., are to be used. Especially is it necessary to have some succulent food when taken from grass and for cows that are long in lactation. They are very susceptible to changes. The grain feed will depend upon the cost of food nutrients in order to secure a balanced ration. If the chemist is of any value, why not use him and learn of those foods that contain the largest amount of digestible protein, carbohydrates and fat and that are purchasable for the least money? The care at this season means the eye and hand of the dairyman. He must as surely live with his cows during the working hours of the day as any business man must stay at his desk or office, no matter what may be his desire, wish or ambition. Results hang upon the time and study given the great American source of profit.

How Feed Affects Butter.

The buttermaker or the creameryman bases his values entirely upon the amount of butter that may be made from a given amount of milk and the quality of the cream. He demands that only certain classes of feed shall be used, because one class will have a tendency to make the butter too soft, another to make it too hard or still another to contribute undesirable flavors. Discrimination must be made in the matter of feeds, resulting in an increased cost. The manufacturers of condensed milk also have an ideal, largely derived from arbitrary considerations, and will purchase milk produced only from certain groups of feed, thus making the cost to the maker much greater.

It Isn't Fair.

Have you ever heard a child say when it has been punished that "it isn't fair?"

You may think nothing of it at the time, but the child does not forget, and sometimes, even years after, the thought of the injustice may still rankle in his mind.

Cautious.

"Time's Flight Turned Backward" SAGE AND SULPHUR

Made Her look Twenty Years Younger.

READ MRS. HERRICK'S SWORN STATEMENT.

State of New York vs. County of Monroe.

Nancy A. Herrick, being duly sworn, deposes and says: When I was a school girl I had a head of heavy, long, dark brown hair, that was so plentiful, rich and glossy, that it was the envy of many of my young schoolmates, and attracted the attention and remarks of strangers. After I was married and as I grew older, my hair commenced to come out just a little at first, but gradually as time passed it came out more and more, and began to turn gray. I was induced by many good reports heard of Sage and Sulphur, to try a bottle. My hair was quite gray and thin on top when I commenced using Sage and Sulphur, and you may imagine my satisfaction when I found that it was fast coming back to its natural condition, becoming thicker, darker, smoother and glossier than it had been for a long time. I continued the use of Sage and Sulphur and my hair is now in a splendid condition, as heavy and as dark and smooth as when I was a girl of sixteen. From my experience I believe it is one's own fault if they lose their hair, or let it get gray or bald. It is now four years since I commenced using Sage and Sulphur, and still use it, and my hair is still as thick, dark, smooth and glossy.
